

WHY T. A. (Bert) CHANDLER

Should Be Re-Elected to Congress

- HE HAS MADE GOOD
- He Has Been Thoroughly American
- He Has Been on the Firing Line in France
- He Has Seen the Holocaust of War
Right Up the German Trenches
- He Knows the Needs of the Nation
- He Has Had Two Years of Successful Experience

T. A. CHANDLER

He Deserves Re-Election on His Record

- HE IS NOT A BITTER PARTISAN
- He Has Been Right on All Big Questions
- He Stands for Good Government
- He Is Not a "Rubber-Stamp" Congressman

He has stayed right on the job at Washington, D. C., ever since congress convened in special session when war was first declared.

He made a trip to the battle fronts in France and Italy at his own expense to get information first hand.

He has stood by the President in every war measure.

He has a son in the aviation service.

He has always been alert to the needs of the country and district and eager and willing to assist individuals from his district in every possible manner.

His colleagues in congress from the eastern half of Oklahoma, although of opposite political faith, give due credit to his efficiency and say he should be returned.

Are you going to trade this valuable experience and asset to this district for an unknown quantity? We believe not.

You perhaps have a son, a brother or at least a near relative in the service. If so, go to the polls on November 5, consider which candidate for congress has his interest at heart and can best serve the boys at home and "Over There" and cast your vote as your conscience dictates.

We have endeavored to conduct Mr. Chandler's campaign free from any personalities and want him elected, not on the demerits of his opponent, but on his own sterling worth and merit.

Trusting that your appreciation of Mr. Chandler's ability and record in congress will be reflected in your vote on November 5, we are,

Yours very truly,

REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL HEADQUARTERS

Harry H. Rogers, Chairman of Committee.
